

ANNUAL REPORT

2013-2014

Message from the Board:

Education on the religious issues related to sexual and domestic violence continues to be our primary strategy for preventing abuse. Prevention is critical to stopping the cycle of abuse, but the challenge remains as we seek to find ways to respond to those harmed by domestic and sexual violence.

This annual report shows the difference FaithTrust Institute made in the lives of many. Whether it is through the pastoral care that a Navy Chaplain shares with a young sailor, student leaders in conversation about sexual assault on their college campus, or the church team training that builds skills for a faithful response to domestic violence, we are there. In 19 states, 3 countries, with nearly 2,300 people, and more than 450 webinar participants.

"Solid content, effectively presented – very effective engagement of participants and input and their perspectives. Thank you." -Participant, Camp Pendleton, CA

"The program was excellent. Your trainer is second to none. She had a way of opening dialogue, naming and getting to the issues of violence affecting the whole world. Thank you so much." -Chaplain, Pottsboro, TX

Our training events, webinars and online workshops, and our educational materials provide the tools to respond and assist those experiencing abuse and violence. Thank you for your support. You enable us to work together to end violence in our world.
